Greeting and Welcome

+Call to Worship

Come, people of God—those beginning something new, those holding hope and heartache, those seeking meaning and direction.

“For I know the plans I have for you,” says the Lord—“plans for your well-being and not for harm, to give you a future with hope.”

Let our love be genuine. Let us hold fast to what is good. Let us be patient in challenge, and rejoice in hope.

We gather to worship the God who calls us, guides us, and goes with us—in every season, at every stage.

Let Us Break Bread Together

arr. Mark Hayes

Prayer after Communion

Gracious and Guiding God, we give you thanks for this holy meal—for bread that strengthens us and cup that renews us. You have fed us with hope—the promise that your plans for us are for good, for a future rooted in your love.

Now send us out with hearts made bold: To let love be genuine, to rejoice in hope, to be patient in trials, and faithful in prayer. Help us seek you with all our hearts, and find you in the faces of one another.

May this table send us into the world—not as finished people, but as faithful ones, ready to serve, ready to grow, and ready to live peaceably with all. In Christ’s name we pray, Amen.
